

It would be a travesty too allow the Consumer Bankers Assn to challenge the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law. This group of banks is already the greatest source of paper junk mail, despite repeated requests to stop sending mail offers, unwanted "convenience" checks, and the like. Opening up the phone lines to their marketing uses would vastly dilute the benefit and value of the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law. I cannot express the depth of my appreciation for the Telephone Privacy Law, and for the difference it has made in my home life in stopping the invasion of marketing calls. Please don't let this special interest group dilute the rights and protections we currently enjoy. Thank you.
